Programme Outcomes

PO1	Presents different learning approaches in order to provide individuals with digital competence skills, which are among the 21st century skills, to improve technology competence and literacy, and to ensure that each individual learns equally by educational technology.
PO2	Approaches the theories or practices in the field of educational technology with scientific knowledge and high-order thinking skills.
PO3	Uses the basic concepts and principles of educational technology in daily life and at the level of expertise in the field.
PO4	Investigates current researches and applications on educational technology and uses them in their studies.
PO5	Proposes solutions based on theories on how to ensure the diffusion of educational technology and their integration into learning teaching processes.
PO6	Analyzes the studies on designing, developing and spreading e-learning environments on the basis of teaching and learning theories.
PO7	Evaluates existing practices based on theories and models based on social, psychological, educational and cognitive variables related to the effects of technology on human life.
PO8	Behaves with the awareness of professional ethics rules.
PO9	Relates and evaluates existing theories and models with Turkey's vision of information and communication technologies, among which are the areas with the strategic objectives and action plans on critical point of view basis.
PO10	Uses basic models related to educational technology in effectively designing, developing and managing information systems.
PO11	Analyzes the technical or scientific problems and offers the best possible solution among the alternatives.
PO12	Develops applications and increases instructional effectiveness by using the integration of instructional technologies in different disciplines.
PO13	Designs environments for the evaluation of knowledge and skills acquired within the scope of educational technology, develops and uses measurement tools.
PO14	Develops educational content on different digital platforms with the effective use of instructional technologies.
PO15	Provides alternative technology-based teaching solutions to existing face-to-face teaching environments.