

Graduate School of Natural and Applied Science was established under the 3837 law number on 03 July 1992. The academic year here started after the 1994-1995 academic year in order to meet the needs in basic graduate education and training in the academia, and to increase the scientific power of our country. In that year, Graduate School of Natural and Applied Science received graduate students in Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Civil Engineering, Geological Engineering, Chemistry and Mechanical Engineering branches. In line with the development of our university, new department branches were opened and after the necessary infrastructure of such departments was completed, graduate students were accepted. The first graduate level students of the Institute were awarded in the Spring Semester of 1995-1996 academic year. A total of 1579 students, graduated from our graduate programs.

The total number of registered students in the 2023-2024 academic year is 891.

• There are 8 administrative personnel working in our institution.

• The institute, which has started the academic year in order to meet the needs of the graduate education required in the academic field and to enhance the scientific power of our country, considers promoting those having universal and analytical thinking and contributing to the development of the country and the region at a high level in scientific and technological sense as its the most basic duty. The vision of the Graduate school of natural and applied science is to become an institute that can compete with institutions and organizations operating in their fields in the production of science and technology

• The completion period for the master's program is four semesters and the completion period for the doctoral program is eight semesters for those who are admitted with a graduate degree and ten semesters for those who are admitted with a bachelor's degree. The graduate school year starts in October in the fall semester and in February in the spring semester. Each semester lasts 14 weeks.

- Currently, our institute provides education in 22 departments for master's degree and 16 departments for PhD education.
