

Program Outcomes

1-The ability to monitor, analyse and assess theoretical and practical changes that occur in the field of finance at the national and international level.

2-The ability to develop strategy, policies and application plans related to finance and to evaluate the obtained results. To strengthen the analysis and design process for the problem has a defined target in line with the perspective of finance processes.

3-Strengthening the perspective of finance in the process of analyzing and designing the problematic process that exists in the direction of a defined target.

4-To gain the ability to observe social, scientific and ethical values during the announcement of the interpretation of the collection of data related to finance.

5-To be able to transfer current developments and their own work to the groups in written, verbal and visual manner in the system.

6-Raising professional and ethical responsibility.