

1. S/he will be able to present the knowledge of basic concepts of sociology
2. S/he will be able to associate basic concepts of sociology with concrete cases
3. S/he will be able to have more detailed information about sub-disciplines of sociology
4. S/he will be able to use the statistical techniques of sociology effectively
5. S/he will be able to abstract concrete social events
6. S/he will be able to create appropriate theoretical structure in the sociological analysis of problems or issues
7. S/he will be able to have knowledge and skills for reaching sociological data, and other scientific sources
8. S/he will be able to gain skills for preparing and implementing scientific research projects
9. S/he will be able to learn which research methods and implementation techniques should be applied to a scientific research question
10. S/he will be able to support sociological issues with practical application (such as; village, museum, prison visits )
11. S/he will be able to view social events from different angles
12. S/he will be able to apply critical thinking to everyday events