

Sachiyo Aburatani, PhD

Vice Director
at Computation Biosystem Big Data Analysis
Open Innovation Laboratory (CBBB-OIL), and Chief Senior Research Scientist at Bioproduction Research Institute of National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology Japan (AIST Japan)

Guest Prof. Waseda University
Guest Prof. Niigata University of Pharmacy and Applied Life Sciences

BIOGRAHY

Completed doctoral course at Department of Genetic Resource Engineering, Graduate School of Bioresource and Environmental Science, Kyushu University in 2003 and Ph.D in Agricultural Science. From 2003 to 2006, she worked as Assistant Professor Institute of Medical Science, The University of Tokyo Japan. In 2006, she joined the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (AIST Japan) after serving as a specially appointed faculty member at Institute of Medical Science, The University of Tokyo. Engaged in research and development in the fields of bioinformatics and systems biology.

Currently, she is Vice Director at CBBB-OIL and also chief senior researcher at Bioproduction Research Institute of AIST Japan. She is a guest professor at “Niigata University of Pharmacy and Applied Science” and at “Waseda University”, and a guest researcher at RIKEN Japan.